Lessons in Grid Computing: The System Is a Mirror Stuart Robbins

"You should not overlook the potential genius in this concept."

--Geoffrey Moore, consultant and author, Dealing with Darwin

"Since he first identified 'information systems as mirrors of the people who build them' for me, I have seen it operate in many ways. It is a fascinating idea, and a completely new way of thinking about technology."

--Sean Moriarty, Chief Operating Officer, Ticketmaster

"This book makes for compelling reading--it's easy to become immersed in the stories, and the insights gradually grow in the reader's mind as they take root in the character's minds. This is quite a useful work. The ideas presented here could be quickly put to practical use in any organization."

--Mohamed Muhsin, VP and CIO, The World Bank

A breakthrough exploration of information systems as mirrors of the people who build them.

Packed with truer-than-life stories, stimulating characters, and unique IT analysis, Lessons in Grid Computing finally declares:

- * Our systems will not "talk to each other" if our people are not talking to each other
- * We must transform ourselves to the same degree that we want to transform our systems
- * To correct problems in our information systems, we must first address the problems between the people that build and support them
